COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 28, 1910.

NUMBER 47

GONE TO HIS REST.

Dr. C. D. Moore, Who Lived at His Country Home, Near Columbia Passes Away.

SERVED IN MEXICAN AND CIVIL WAR.

Last Sunday night Dr. C. D. Moore, who was one of the best known men in the Green River section of Kentucky, died at his country home, near this place. Had he lived until the 17th of next April he would have been eighty-five years old. He was a native of Greensburg, but for many years a citizen of Adair county.

He was a very intellectual man and at one time a very eminent physician and surgeon.

When the Mexican war broke out he enlisted in Capt. Squires' Company and served until peace was declared. Returning home he joined a company of Forty-niners, went to California on a gold hunting expedition. After mining for several years he returned to his native home, Greensburg, Ky., took up the study of medicine, subsequently graduating from several different institutions. He successfully practiced his profession in his home town until the civil war broke out. He espoused the cause of the union, enlisted as a surgeon in Hobson's regiment, and served until hostilities ceased.

He also made application to raise a company for the Spanish-American war.

It is related by an old soldier that in a hotly contested battle in the South, and while Dr. Moore was dressing the wounds of disabled soldiers, smoking a pipe, a ball struck his pipe, knocking it from his mouth. The doctor remarked "that was a very poor marksman," and continued his surgery as though nothing had happened.

He was twice married, his first wife being a Miss Spencer, a sister of Mesdames Bettie Atkins, M. D. Baker and G. A. Kemp, this city. Only one child was born of the first union, Mr. W. R. Moore, of Lampasas, Texas, who visited his father a few weeks ago. His last wife and five or six children also survive him.

The interment was at Cane Valley, this county, this morning at ten o'clock, many friends being present.

Upon his return he reported that he had been living in Tennessee, and that he had returned home to die. He was in very poor health when he reached his old neighborhood and gradually grew worse until Saturday night of last week when the end came. He was about sixty-four years old and had practiced medicine in many different places. His last location, before going to Tennessee, was Russell Springs.

He was a man of considerable information, and the year before he left Russell county was a Republican candidate for County Judge and almost won the nomination.

In his young days he was an ardent Southern sympathizer and when his first son was born he named him J. Wilkes Booth.

The deceased leaves a number of brothers and several sisters in this county.

Death at Thurlow.

Mattie Guthrie, the beloved wife of Rev. J. P. Van Hoy, died at Thurlow, Green county, last Friday morning. The funeral services and interment were at Cane Valley, this county, last Saturday. He had been in declining health for several years and had spent thousands of dollars visiting eminent specialists.

Work of Local Ministers.

Editor News:—

It may be of interest to your readers who are interested in the progress of the cause of Christ, if I give you a brief account of my work for the past year.

The territory over which I travel comprises nine whole counties and parts of five others; contains twenty-three circuits and about one hundred and twenty churches. It is traversed by both Green and Cumberland rivers with their numerous tributaries, making it exceedingly difficult to travel, especially during the winter season, on account of bad roads and impassable streams.

In serving the district during the year that is closing I have held 94 quarterly meetings, preached nearly 250 times and traveled 3600 miles. This is about an average years work.

The preachers in the district have been faithful and the minutes will show that this has been one of the most successful years in our history. With a few exceptions the financial reports from the various circuits will show a decided advance over any previous year.

The partial report in hand justifies the statement that not less than 1000 people have been converted and added to the church during the year.

At this rate it seems that we would soon be able to make a better showing in this field than we do at present, and many wonder why we remain in many places comparatively weak. This condition of continued weakness is explained by the fact that this is a shifting population. We are unable to keep the young people here after they are saved. The ambitious young people go to other fields where they can find remunerative employment. Thus, the church here is losing her life, but is constantly enriching the life of the Church abroad.

This district has a membership of 7951 and contributed last year for ministerial support $9610.10, for missions $1646.65; and for all purposes $20177.44. Cordially, T. L. Hulise.

The following is from Rev. B. M. Currie, pastor of the Methodist Church, this place, and Tabor. It will doubtless read with interest:

Additions to the church during year, 73.

Number Sunday School pupils during year 238.

Organized Epworth League and enrolled members 33.

Increase in membership of Woman's Missionary Societies 7.

Married 9 couples.

Baptized 12 adults and 2 infants.

Conducted and assisted in 6 funerals.

Made over 800 pastoral visits at the homes of the people.

Raised and used for relief of local poor $35.50.

Raised for missions about $125.00.

Raised for furnishing parsonage $97.

Raised for repairs on Tabor church, $115.00.

Raised for all purposes by the churches about $1800.

Rev. R. L. Tally, who is the Evangelist for the Columbia district, has also been very successful in his year's work, and when he reaches Conference he will have a very satisfactory report to make. He has been evangelizing in seven counties, and has assisted in many very successful meetings. During the year he preached 223 sermons, witnessed 149 conversions, one hundred of whom joined the Methodist Church. He collected for missions $734.92. Rev. Tally does not know whether or not he will be returned to this field, but should he come he will be gladly received. If he goes elsewhere the people will soon know that they have an earnest minister in their midst.

Listen, Farmers.

Did you know the most valuable thing on your farm was the manure for produce. The only way to handle it is with a manure spreader. I sell the best makes on the market. Call or write me at Columbia, Ky. Hugh M. Noe

Miss Nettie Clark, this city, who has been seriously afflicted for the past year, submitted to an operation at Elizabeth Infirmary, Lebanon, last Wednesday. Dr. C. M. RECITAL.

Large Audience Greeted Misses Hatcher and MacGavock at Lindsey-Wilson.

On Friday evening the large auditorium of Lindsey-Wilson was completely filled long before the hour for the exercises to begin, the occasion being the yearly recital given by the music and expression teachers, who are Misses Ethel Lee Hatcher and Louise MacGavock. Never in the history of this institution has an audience been more highly entertained. From the first number which was Liszt's Nocturne so beautifully rendered by Miss Hatcher, until the last, the audience never tired. Each number of the musical part was splendid and the vocal solo "Mighty Lak" a Rose by Nevin, was especially received. The duet given by Misses Hatcher and Milliken played by Mrs. C. M. Russell was also an interesting feature.

As a reader we feel that Miss MacGavock has few superiors. She was heartily encored after each selection and she kept the audience in a continual roar of laughter by her impersonations. The readings entitled, "Heard on the Beach" and "The Swan Song" were among the best, and Tennyson's "The First Quarrel" brought down the house.

Columbia feels justly proud of these two young ladies and we look forward to many more like occasions during their stay with us. They both proved to the many who heard them that they were well qualified for the places they hold.

While in Somerset, last week, Mr. N. M. Tutt met Mr. J. Mack Frazer, who informed him that there was a baby at his house, two months old, and that his wife, who had been an invalid for ten or twelve years, was getting well and that he expected in a very short time to announce that her health had been fully recovered. Mr. Frazer was in a very happy state of mind, and this unexpected recovery of Mrs. Frazer after so long a spell of illness will be gladly received by her many friends here. When the baby was born, two months ago, it weighed 3 pounds. It now weighs 18

Take a day of rest and recreation and visit the cleanest and brightest show you have ever witnessed. Enjoy a moral, refined performance of skilled Artists. Remember we do not claim to have the largest show in the world, but we honestly claim one of the best now before the public. M. L. Clark & Sons. At Columbia, October 4th.

The Cemetery Committee announce that the public is invited to inspect the grounds and see the improvements. Those interested are requested to have their lots trimmed, as they have been mowed and we did not contract with the sexton to trim the lots. He will do that for a small extra. All persons having rock or other debris there are requested to move same or use it as seems proper. October being the last month in the year, in which any work will be done, until spring, we wish to perfect everything. Will those having wire stretched around their lots, please remove and curb or indicate with corner stones, as wire is very much in the way in mowing and raking. Cemetery Committee.

See the display advertisement of M. L. Clark & Son's shows published in to-day's paper.

Reports of this year's work of Presiding Elder T. L. Hulise, Rev. B. M. Currie and Rev. R. L. Tally are published in the News today. These gentlemen, as their reports will show, have been very successful in their respective work. They are popular ministers and it is hoped that they will be returned. Rev. Currie, pastor of Columbia Church, is exceedingly sociable in disposition, and his hearty handshakes will be missed while he is attending Conference.

The Revival Continues.

The Evangelistic meetings at the Union Presbyterian Church, near Gradyville, have taken the proportions of the old time revivals for which this church was famous in other days. The attendance has been good from the beginning, but on Sunday the capacity of the large house was taxed to the limit, notwithstanding the constant rain. Both preaching and singing are of an unusually high standard and together with the excellent work done by interested church members, all churches being represented, the best of results are but natural. Up to this writing there have been some twenty-five or thirty public professions of Christ with ten additions to the membership of the Presbyterian church. The meetings will, probably, continue throughout the present week. Three services are held each day with dinner on the grounds.

Cane Valley Bank Closed.

The Farmer's Deposit Bank, which has been doing business at Cane Valley, this county, for three or four years, suspended payment last Saturday. The bank has a heavy debt out, and on account of the scarcity of money, the Directors met and decided to temporarily suspend business until collections could be made.

Come in October 4 and see M. L. Clark & Son's big show. All kinds of wild animals.

To Christen The New Organ.

There will be rendered at the Presbyterian church an interesting musical program on Wednesday evening Sept. 28 at 8 o'clock. The occasion will fittingly celebrate the installment of the new organ recently purchased for the use of the church. The program will consist of instrumental, solo and chorus selections. The city's best musical talent will assist in the rendition of the program.

Mr. Presley Clark, Bowling Green, will be the efficient director, while Miss Alice Walker, the church's excellent organist, will preside at the new instrument. The public is cordially invited to spend a pleasant evening with the Presbyterians and partake of their enjoyment over this latest addition to their equipment for better worship. No admission fee.

Wolford Bros., Casey Creek, who handle several very fine horses, had a colt show at their barn in Roley, this county, on the 17th. There were about 15 Royal Peacocks to enter the contest, and they were all beauties. Thirty dollars had been offered by the Messrs. Wolford in premiums, for first, second and third choice, and it proved a contest hard to decide. The Judges were Mr. Ben Shreve, of Taylor county, and Mr. Jo Campbell, of Casey county, wholly disinterested men, and they had something to do. After carefully examining all the colts they decided as follows: First choice, Jake Rich, Second choice, Thos. Drake, Third, John Knifley. The decisions were perfectly satisfactory.

Mr. A. D. Gilbert, the well-known painter, is now engaged in putting the finishing touches on Mr. J. F. Cabell's residence, Miami, Green county. Sidney Harmon Dead.

The Death Angel late yesterday afternoon visited the Harmon home, a few miles west of Jackson, and claimed the husband and father of that family. She spirit of Sidney Harmon, a quiet, modest and unassuming man, but a most worthy, upright and honorable citizen, took its flight at 5:30 to that bourne where suffering is no more and peace and rest eternal.

U. S. Harmon was a native of Kentucky, but came to Mississippi some eighteen years ago, his brother, Rev. M. F. Harmon having preceded him here some little while. In connection with his brother he engaged in the printing business in this city and was active in that pursuit until a year or so ago, when his health failing he purchased him a country home near Van Winkle, and in the quiet of country life, to a large extent regained his lost vigor. Mr. Harmon was a sufferer from kidney troubles for the past three or four years but was apparently in his usual health until a few days ago, when the disease took an alarming form, and realizing that the end was near a telegram was sent his oldest daughter, who only two weeks ago had gone to West Point to attend the female college at that place. She arrived home about one hour before her father breathed his last, completing the family circle by whom he was surrounded when the end came.

About 16 years ago Mr. Harmon was united in marriage to Miss Virginia Stovall of this city, who with four children survive to mourn the death of a kind and devoted husband and a loving and indulgent father.

The funeral ceremonies will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the West End Christian church, of which he was a consistent member, after which the interment will take place at Cedar Lawn cemetery.—Daily Clarion-Ledger Jackson, Miss., Wednesday morning, Sept. 21, 1910.

M. L. Clark & Son's great overland shows will exhibit in Columbia Tuesday, October 4. The show is bigger and better than ever. There will be a grand street parade.
